Atlantic City Plans Cover Wide Range

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—All five of the eighteen-hole golf courses around this sea island were cleared of snow again this week, restoring the full range of resort attractions. Beach horseback riding, boardwalk bicycling, salt-water swimming pools and public ice skating in the convention hall continue.

Burton Holmes will present a travelogue on Sweden in the Senior High School auditorium Tuesday night in the Winter cultural series sponsored by the Atlantic City Teachers Association. The Atlantic City Tuna Club will be host to South Jersey sportsmen at a dinner that night. The Evans Choristers plan a card party Wednesday at the Claridge.

Gamma Sigma sorority will have a leap-year dance Saturday night. The local Hadassah Chapter plans its annual donor luncheon Monday at Hotel Breakers. A joint luncheon meeting of all the service clubs will be held on Thursday at Hackney's Restaurant.

ROSENDALE CHAMPIONSHIPS

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROSSENDALE, N. Y.—More than 10,000 Winter sports enthusiasts, including many outstanding jumpers, will take over this Ulster County village next week-end when the New York State ski-jumping championships are held.

The Telemark Ski Club of Rosendale, sponsors of the title events on Sunday, will entertain Saturday evening at Fireman's Hall. The hall, which will be turned into a ski chalet, will be the scene of a variety party, and the program will include moving pictures of the world champion jumper, Birger Ruud, in action.

On the Auchmoody slopes a small practice "hop" for beginners will be open to the ski public, and bells and harnesses are being polished for several sleighing parties and impromptu ski-joring events.

Increased bus service will be in effect through the Adirondack Bus Lines.
